A NOTE ON USING THIS HOMEBREW

New changes since the last version are highlighted in magenta. The full changelog is found at the end of the book.

If you have any questions, feedback, or criticisms when using this homebrew, you can feel free to come back to me and I will always do my best to update it to the best standard that a single person on the internet can do.

Waaagh on, you crazy devils.

Waaagh! The Orks! by Ana

@anathim#0000 on discord

Thanks to the Panoptica discord for the help.

Thanks also to Someone404 for some of the lore, and to everyone who helped playtest this absolute mess of a homebrew!

FACTION AND ALLEGIANCES

Orks only kno 'ow ta krump an' ta win. We'z dun't mess with gits. Dey're fer splattin' or fer lootin', and dey shoud know where dey stand. Dat said... Gits ain't kunnin. Get'em ta give ye weponz, get'em ta fink yer workin' fer dem. Den ye snik'em. Dat's da way o' da orks.

When determining Allegiance, a Detachment selected from this Army List will be of the Xenos faction and Orks sub-faction.

When determining the Level of Alliance for an Orks detachment, refer to the following list:

Sworn Brothers: no one.

Fellow Warriors: no one.

Distrusted Allies: Agents of the Warmaster, Legiones Astartes, Imperial Army, all unlisted Xenos armies.

By the Emperor's (or Warmaster's) Order: Agents of the Imperium, Mechanicum, Daemons of the Ruinstorm, T'au Empire, Leagues of Votann.

IMPERIAL MILITIA ADDITIONAL PROVENANCE OF WAR

The following is an additional Provenance of War, for use with the Imperial Militia army list. It comes in addition to the other Provenances that can be selected for that army list using the Provenances of War special rule.

DIGGANOBZ

Dere's 'oomies dat try ta be loike orks. Dey got da roite idea, but dey'll neva really be green. Dere a bit betta den grots at dyin' fer orks, fough.

This Provenance can only be selected if the Detachment is an Optional Detachment, and your army's Primary Detachment has the Orks sub-faction. The Detachment is counted as having the Xenos faction, and is counted as Fellow Warriors with the Orks sub-faction, rather than Distrusted Allies. In addition, models with the Militia unit Sub-type in the Detachment gain the Stubborn special rule so long as their unit is within 12" of any friendly units with the Orks sub-faction.

This Provenance cannot be taken in conjunction with the Kinfolk Helots or Survivors of the Dark Age Provenances.

ORK WARLORD TRAITS

Da boss 'ez always da biggest ork aroun', an' an ork dat gets dat big 'az stories ta tell an' 'as been in enuff foites ta kno da best ways ta krump gits.

When selecting a Warlord Trait for a Warlord from the Waaagh! The Orks! army list, one from the following list may be selected:

ARCH-TYRANT

'E knoz 'ow ta keep ta boyz in loine, dat 'un. Snikked sum o' dem fer gawkin' at 'is new bootz 'unce, den snikked sum more fer nawt gawkin' enuff.

Whilst the Warlord is on the battlefield, all units with the Mob unit Sub-type within 12" that can draw line of sight to the Warlord (including the Warlord's own unit) gain the Fearless special rule. In addition, an army whose Warlord has this trait may make one additional Reaction during each of the opposing player's Assault phases.

BLESSED BY GORK (OR POSSIBLY MORK)

Da godz 're watchin' ova dis boss, mebbe even boff a dem. So dun't go an' backstab 'im, cuz da godz won't be 'appy. Or, so da boss sez.

At the start of each of the Warlord's controlling player's turn, if the Warlord is on the battlefield or Embarked upon a Transport that is on the battlefield, roll three D6 and set them to a side. These are referred to as 'blessing dice'. Once per phase, at any time until the start of the controlling player's next turn, the controlling player can expend one blessing dice to replace the result of any one D6 roll made for the Warlord's unit or the Transport they are embarked upon with the result of that die. Once a blessing dice has been expended, it can no longer be used. Any blessing dice remaining are lost at the start of the controlling player's next turn. In addition, an army whose Warlord has this trait may make one additional Reaction during each of the opposing player's Assault phases.

LIKE A THUNDERBOLT

E's fasta den a tellypota! Try ta shoot 'im, e's already on ya! Krumpin gits fasta den thunda! Waaaaagh!

Once during each Shooting phase, if the Warlord's unit is targeted for a Shooting Attack (including a Shooting Attack made as part of a Reaction), before resolving any shots or declaring any Reactions, the unit can make an out-of-sequence normal move of up to 6" directly towards the unit making the shooting attack. You can still declare an appropriate Reaction after the unit makes the move. In addition, an army whose Warlord has this trait may make one additional Reaction during each of the opposing player's Assault phases.

BRUTAL (BUT KUNNIN')

Da boss 'ez brutal, but, hyuk hyuk hyuk... E'z also kunnin', too.

The Warlord gains the Rage (D3+1) and Counter-Attack (D3) special rules. In addition, an army whose Warlord has this trait may make one additional Reaction during each of the opposing player's Assault phases.

KUNNIN' (BUT BRUTAL)

Now, you may know dat da boss 'ez kunnin. But wot you may nawt know, e'z dat da boss ez brutal, too.

The Warlord (and its unit) gain the Scouts special rule. In addition, before the beginning of the battle, you may select up to 1 unit in the Warlord's Detachment with the Troops battlefield role for every 1000 points in your army. Those units gain the Outflank special rule. In addition, an army whose Warlord has this trait may make one additional Reaction during each of the opposing player's Assault phases.

BEST OF THE BEASTS

Dese nobz ya see 'ere, dey been fightin wiff da boss fer a long long toime an' winnin' for even longa. No tuffer kustommas dan dese gits, so keep in loine.

The Warlord gains the Battle-Hardened (1) special rule. In addition, When selecting your army, you can pick up to one unit of Ork Nobz, Ork Meganobz or Ork Nob Bikerz to be a Skarboyz squad. All models in a Skarboyz squad improve their Weapon Skill and Leadership characteristics by 1 and gain the Battle-Hardened (1) special rule. However, the Warlord must join that unit during deployment (and must have a Unit Type that allows it to join that unit), and may not leave the unit during the battle for any reason. In addition, an army whose Warlord has this trait may make one additional Reaction during each of the opposing player's Assault phases.

ORK ADVANCED REACTION

This Advanced Reaction is available only to units as part of a Waaagh! The Orks! Detachment. Unlike Core Reactions, it is activated in unique and specific circumstances, as noted in its description, and can often have game changing effects. Advanced Reactions use up points of a Reactive player's Reaction Allotment as normal and obey all other restrictions placed upon Reactions, unless it is specifically noted otherwise in their description.

GIT'EM!

Dere we go, dey're comin' at us! Wait... Ol' on... Are dey... Dey're STOPPIN'? Not me on watch! We'z 'ere fer a scrap, so boyz... GIT'EM!

This advanced reaction can be used once per battle in the opposing player's Assault phase, after an enemy unit that failed a charge move has made its Surge move. Select one unit with the Orks sub-faction that was a target of the charge, or that is within 12" of the unit that just made its Surge move, to be the reacting unit; that unit immediately makes a Charge, targeting the enemy unit that just made its Surge move. Enemy units may not make Reactions against that Charge. If the Charge is succesful, all models in the reacting unit gain the Rage (2) special rule, until the end of the turn (If the unit already has the Rage special rule, add 1 to the value X of its Rage special rule instead).

DA KOLOURS

Kolours mean fings. Dat's ol', ol' ork know-wotz. An' if ye put da gud kolours on da gud fings, da great green godz 're goin' ta kno an' dey're goin ta send ye dere blessings o' da Waaagh. Learn yer kolours, boy, it's yer kultur!

Orks have a special meaning for their colours, and painting their gear imbues it with special powers. Each model with the Da Kolours (X) special rule will have a number of additional special rules and abilities specific to their Kolour (which should, preferably, be represented somewhere on the model). A unit which includes models with this special rule may only have one variation of the Da Kolours special rule, e.g., Da Kolours (Red Wunz Go Faster), and no model with this special rule may join a unit which includes any models with a different variation of the Da Kolours (X) special rule, nor embark upon a transport with a different variation of the Da Kolours (X) special rule. A unit must select one Kolour from the list below during the army selection process (before the start of a battle) for no additional cost and is thereafter treated as having that variation of this special rule – unless specified otherwise, a Detachment may contain units with different variations of the Da Kolours (X) special rule.

RED WUNS GO FASTER

Dey do! 'Es why dat 'un es da best fav'rite fer speed freeks. Sumtimes dey run outta red paint so dey use blood, but eet goz brown fast so 'es nawt so gud.

A model with this special rule adds +1 to its Movement characteristic and gains the Light unit Sub-type. A model with this special rule that has the Heavy unit sub-Type does not gain the Light sub-Type, but instead loses the Heavy unit sub-Type.

BLACK IS DED 'ARD

'Es a gud laff ta paint stuff black and watch da bullets bounce off! But fer da loife of me oi donno why sum orks spend so much toime paintin' checkas on eet.

All Shooting and Close Combat Attacks made against a non-Vehicle model with this special rule with a Strength value equal to that model's Toughness value wound it on a To Wound roll of 5+, rather than 4+.

In addition, each time your opponent rolls for Armour Penetration against a Vehicle with this special rule, if the result beats the Vehicle's Armour value by exactly 1, that hit is a Glancing Hit instead of a Penetrating Hit.

YELLOW GOES BOMM

Shoor, yellow ez bommier, but den yer spendin' all yer teefon repairs an' more bullets 'coz yer stuff'eez blowin' up more often. So 'es a kolour fer rich squigs!

Each time a model with this special rule makes a Shooting attack with a weapon that rolls to hit, add 1 to the Strength of each Hit for which a To Hit roll of 6 is scored. This special rule has no effect on shots fired as Snap Shots. In addition, each time a model with this special rule makes a shooting attack with a weapon that has any variant of the Blast (but not Template) special rule, add 1 to the Strength of each Hit scored by a blast template that scores a Direct Hit.

BLUE GOTS ALL DA LUCK

Shoor ez! 'Es why sum wild orkz get blue tats, so da luck eez roite on dere skin. Eet works on wagons foine too, tho. Sum sez eet even works fer beakies, but dat's jus' silly.

The controlling player can re-roll one To Hit roll, one To Wound roll, and one Saving Throw made for each unit with this special rule, once each per phase (Saving throws include armour saves, invulnerable saves, and cover saves, but not damage mitigation rolls).

WHITE MEANS DEFF

White ez loike, e's nawt even a real kolour, yanno? Dat's why eet's so killy an' scary. Most orks, dey won't put it on, 'coz 'es loike askin' fer trabble. If an ork's painted white, meenz e'z a crazy git.

Each time a model with this special rule makes a Shooting or Close Combat attack, if a To Wound or Armour Penetration roll of 5+ is rolled, any Armour Save or Damage Mitigation rolls made against any Wound, Glancing Hit or Penetrating Hit caused by that attack is made with a -1 penalty to the roll.

BUT GREEN IS BEST

Becoz orks ez green, an' orkz ez da best. Dere's no 'un ork dat can claim green, 'coz green 'ez fer all orks, so if yer paintin' yer fings green, ya betta make da orkz proud, 'cos we'z all be watchin'!

Models with this special rule and the Mob unit Sub-type gain +1 to their Weapon Skill characteristic whilst engaged in a close combat in which at least one other friendly unit with this special rule is engaged.

In addition, when the controlling player resolves a Ram or Hammer of Wrath Attack made by a model with this special rule, the Strength of any Hits inflicted is increased by 1.

NO WUN'S EVA SEEN A PURPLE ORK

'Cos 'es nawt an orky kolour, sees? An' 'es nawt praktikul. Seen a mek paint a wagon purple on a dare; never found da zoggin' fing again.

A model in a unit that contains only models with this special rule is always considered to be 2" further away than it actually is when measuring range to it from any enemy model for the purpose of resolving a Shooting Attack, Charge or any Reaction declared by an enemy model or unit (this is cumulative with any other modifiers to range imposed by special rules, such as Night Fighting, Special Rules, or Wargear).

HQ

HQ

Ye can't 'ave a war wiffout a warboss. Dat jus' moikes sense, 'cos if ye dun't all da boyz would jus' bash each ovva all day instead'a doin' yoozful stuff.

Da boss ez da biggest and da strongest ork aroun', so dey can krump any dumb git dat tries ta talk back, so we'z can get organized.

'Cos da only way ta be a boss ez ta krump da previous boss, a buncha different oddboyz can be bosses at toimes. Variety ez gud an' all, but me, oi loike da bosses dat jus' go an' krump.

FLYIN' ACE

Woah, dose work upside down?

A model with this special rule has a 5+ invulnerable save against Shooting Attacks. This is increased to 4+ against attacks made by models with the Flyer or Antigrav unit Sub-type.

In addition, if a model with this special rule makes the Return Fire reaction, you can pivot the unit on the spot so it faces any direction before determining which weapons can be used as part of the reaction, and it gains the Shrouded (5+) special rule against all Hits inflicted as part of the Shooting Attack that triggered the reaction. That reaction does not count towards your Reaction allotment for that phase; this does not allow the model to make more than one Reaction in a single phase or a player to make more than three Reactions in a single phase.

KUSTOM WORKSHOP

A Kustom Workshop is a Barricade. In addition, any model on the controller's side and with the Ork faction may add +1 to the result of any Battlesmith roll that it makes whilst within 3" of the Kustom Workshop's Grabbin' Klaw.

JUNK PILE

A Junk Pile is a piece of Battlefield Debris. Models can pass through a Junk Pile, but may not end their move on top of it. Moving through a Junk Pile counts as open terrain for models with the Ork faction and as Difficult and Dangerous terrain for all other models.

JUNK BARRICADE

A Junk Barricade is a Barricade. Moving through a Junk Barricade counts as open terrain for models with the Ork faction and as Difficult and Dangerous terrain for all other models.

APPENDICES

ORK UNIT TYPES

MOB SUB-TYPE

Orks fight in mobs. Da more orks aroun' ye, da less yer gettin' shot, 'coz dere takin' shots fer ye! 'Course, if ye run outta mob ta toike da bullets fer ye, den et's toime ta scram.

The following rules apply to all models with the Mob sub-type:

- A unit that contains a majority of models with the Mob sub-type can substitute the amount of models in its unit for its Leadership characteristic whenever it takes a Morale or Pinning check, up to a maximum of 10.
- Whilst a unit contains 11 or more models with the Mob sub-type, all models in that unit gain the Fearless special rule.
- A model with the Bulky (X) special rule counts as a number of model equal to the number listed in brackets in its Bulky special rule for the purpose of the Mob sub-type.

RAMSHACKLE SUB-TYPE

Gits dun't get da subtelty o' proppa craftorkship. Dey can't moike kartz dat 're as gud an' kustom as ours, so dey get jelly.

The following rules apply to all models with the Ramshackle sub-type:

- A model with the Ramshackle sub-type has a 6+ Invulnerable Save. That save may not be taken against Wounds, Glancing Hits or Penetrating Hits inflicted by weapons with the Ordnance or Destroyer type.
- When a Vehicle model with this Sub-type suffers the Explodes result from the Vehicle Damage Table (but not the Crashes and Burn result), roll a D6 and apply the result on the following table:
 - 1-2: Skrrrronk: Replace that result with the Immobilized result.
 - 3-4: Vlam!: Resolve the Explodes result as normal, except the Strength of any Hits inflicted as part of the Explodes result is reduced to 4.
 - 5-6: Carreen: The model can make a Move of up to D6+6" before resolving the Explodes result.
- When a model with this Sub-type that has a Wounds characteristic loses its last Wound, but before it is removed as a casualty, each model, friendly and enemy, within D6" suffers a Hit with AP- and a Strength equal to the Toughness value of the model.

SKIRMISH SUB-TYPE

If yer runnin' further away from yer moites, den dey can't eat bullets fer ye, but less of y'all will 'asplode when a big bomm falls on yer 'eads.

The following rules apply to all models with the Skirmish unit Sub-type:

- A unit that includes only models with the Skirmish Sub-type has a unit coherency range of 3" rather than 2".
- A unit that includes only models with the Skirmish Sub-type increases all Cover Saves granted by terrain by one (i.e., from 6+ to 5+). This only increases existing Cover Saves and does not grant one when in terrain that does not normally grant a Cover Save. This rule cannot increase a Cover Save to better than 2+.

EMPLACEMENT SUB-TYPE

Oy, dat's me shack! No loiterin'!

The following rules apply to all models with the Emplacement sub-type:

- A model with the Emplacement Sub-type has an Armour Value instead of Toughness Characteristic and a reduced profile to reflect its limited capabilities. Page 224 of Warhammer: The Horus Heresy – Age of Darkness Rulebook presents rules for making attacks against models with this Unit Sub-type.
- A model with this Unit Sub-type may never Move or be Moved by any special rule or effect – if it is forced to Move then it instead suffers the effects of the Total Collapse result on the Building Damage table.

GARGANTUAN SUB-TYPE

Oh, wow. Dat's almost as big as dat squig oi 'unted all by meself bare'anded unce.

The following rules apply to all models with the Gargantuan unit sub-type:

- Models with the Gargantuan Unit Sub-type have the Eternal Warrior and Fearless special rules.
- Models with the Gargantuan Unit Sub-type are not affected by special rules that negatively modify their Characteristics (other than Wounds).
- Models with the Gargantuan Unit Sub-type are not slowed by Difficult Terrain and automatically pass Dangerous Terrain tests – but may not pass through or end their move in Impassable Terrain.
- Models with the Gargantuan Unit Sub-type count as ten models for the purposes of determining if the model is outnumbered by another unit.
- Models with the Gargantuan Unit Sub-type may only make Reactions triggered by models with the Armiger, Dreadnought, Primarch or Vehicle Unit Type, or any model with a Wounds Characteristic of 8 or more.
- Successful Wounds scored by attacks with the Poisoned or Fleshbane special rules must be re-rolled against models with the Gargantuan Unit Sub-type.
- A model with the Gargantuan Unit Sub-type may attack with all weapons they have in each Shooting Attack they make, including as part of a Reaction.
- A model with the Gargantuan Unit Sub-type may make Shooting Attacks with Heavy and Ordnance weapons, counts as Stationary even if it moved in the preceding Movement phase, and may declare Charges as normal regardless of any Shooting Attacks made in the same turn.
- No model that does not have the Gargantuan Unit Sub-type may join a unit that includes a model with the Gargantuan Unit Sub-type.
- A model with the Gargantuan Unit Sub-type ignores all effects (both detrimental and beneficial) of all Psychic Powers and cannot be Wounded or affected by any Attack with the Psychic Focus special rule. Weapons with the Force special rule that are used to make Attacks against a model with the Gargantuan Unit Sub-type are not affected and are resolved normally.

PRIME-ORK UNIT TYPE

The Prime-Orks are the scions of the coming age of the ork. The humans' age has come and went, and they have failed to defeat us. Now, in their stead all ork-kind united behind the Prime-Orks will rise and claim the galaxy humanity failed to conquer.

The following rules apply to all models with the Prime-Ork unit type:

- Prime-Orks are counted as Primarchs during army creation, and count against your Lords of War and Primarch allowance. In addition, for the purpose of any special rule that affects or has additional effects that target models with the Primarch Unit Type, a model with the Prime-Ork Unit Type is considered to have the Primarch Unit Type.
- All Prime-Orks have the following special rules: Eternal Warrior, Fearless, It Will Not Die (5+), Bulky (6), Independent Character, and Relentless. In addition, all models with the Prime-Ork unit type always count as Character models.
- Prime-Orks are not affected by special rules that negatively modify their Characteristics (other than Wounds) and, in addition, Prime-Orks always resolve Snap Shots at their normal BS.
- Any Hits inflicted by a Prime-Ork, as part of either Shooting Attacks or in close combat, are allocated by the Prime-Ork's controlling player and not the controlling player of the target unit. These Hits should form a separate Wound Pool.
- If an army includes any Prime-Ork models, then one of those models must be chosen as the army's Warlord.

GARGANTUAN PRIME-ORK UNIT TYPE

The Beast of Beasts, the towering lord of the Orks, rose to a height of over ten meters and wore battlements as armour.

The following rules apply to all models with the Gargantuan Prime-Ork unit type:

- Models with the Gargantuan Prime-Ork Unit Type follow all rules for the Gargantuan and Prime-Ork unit Types, except they do not have the Independent Character special rule and are not Character models.
- For the purposes of any special rule that affects or has additional effects that target models with the Gargantuan or Prime-Ork Unit Type, a model with the Gargantuan Prime-Ork Unit Type is considered to have the Gargantuan and Prime-Ork Unit Types

THE WAAAGH! SPECIAL RULE

CALLING A WAAAGH!

WAAAAAGH!

At the start of a friendly turn, if any Detachments in an army are taken from the Waaaaagh! The Orks! army list, and that Detachment includes any model that is on the battlefield and has the Waaagh special rule, the controlling player may activate that model's Waaagh! special rule. This is referred to as "Calling a Waaagh!".

If a player does so, then until the end of that turn:

- All models with the Mob unit Sub-type in the Detachment gain the Rage (2) Special Rule. If any of those models already have the Rage (X) Special Rule, increase the value in brackets of their Rage special rule by 1 instead.
- All units in the Detachment that include a majority of models with the Mob unit Sub-type roll an additional die to determine their charge distance. Those units may select enemy units up to 18" away as a charge target, and may move up to a maximum of 18" when making Charge moves, rather than 12".

Each Detachment may only call a Waaagh! once per battle, even if it includes multiple models with the Waaagh! special rule.

WAAAGH! AND OTHER SPECIAL RULES

WAAA... Great green godz, me throat's sore. Anyone gots a lozenge squig?

Some other special rules may refer directly to the Waaagh special rule, and gain additional effects during the turn in which you call a Waaagh!, such as the Flyin' Eadbutt and Pyromania special rules. Where that is the case, those effects are only applied during the turn in which the controlling player calls a Waaagh!.

WAAAGH! ARMIES

Ta ev'ry waaagh ets own. Orks 're all 'bout doin' wot ye want, and we'z got oh-so-many weyz ta stomp on gits.

If the Detachment's Warlord has the Waaagh! special rule, and the army includes at least 1000 points worth of models, then that detachment may also be upgraded to a Waaagh! army at no additional cost.

The following Waaagh! armies represent some of the various ork forces that may be found rampaging accross the galaxy. The rules for each individual Waaagh! Army present a number of Effects which grant the Detachment new options or special rules, as well as a number of Limitations which will deny the Detachment access to certain options or rules it might otherwise be able to make use of. Unless otherwise stated as part of the Waaagh! Army's rules, all Effects and Limitations must be applied to models and units that are selected as part of the Detachment that it has been chosen for. Because of this, it is adviseable to choose your Waaagh! army before you finish selecting the rest of your army.

AIR WAAAGH!

So, mosta da toime, da boss wud be on da groun' wiff da rest o' us boyz. But if yer boss es a flyboss... Den dere gonna fly ovva us wiff dere budz. Wish we gots deff skwadron, but all we gots es brag skwadron!

EFFECTS

- Any unit in the detachment that can take a Trukk as a dedicated transport, and numbers no more than 12 models, may take a Warkopta as a Dedicated Transport.
- Models with the Flyer unit Sub-type in the detachment gain the Strafing Run (1) special rule during the turn in which they arrive from reserves.
- When a model with the Flyer unit Sub-type from the detachment suffers the Crashes and Burns result from the Vehicle Damage Table, you can re-roll the scatter die, and/or any or all of the dice rolled to determine scatter distance.

LIMITATIONS

- The Detachment must include at least one Ork Baron. That model gains the Waaagh! special rule, and may be your Warlord (even though it is not a Character), but does not gain a Warlord Trait.
- The Detachment must include at least as many units with the Flyer sub-Type as it does units with the Troops battlefield role.
- The Detachment cannot include any Heavy Support or Lord of War choice that does not have the Flyer unit Sub-type.

BEAST SNAGGIN' WAAAGH!

Any gud ork loves a scrap... Sum boyz love a scrap wiff a big monsta more. Dey're always gonna bring dere best 'untin' bits when huntin' big fings, be et a squigosaur, some weird not-ork beastie or 'un o' dese big 'umies wiff da shoiny armour.

EFFECTS

- Models with the Monster Hunter special rule in the Detachment can re-roll failed To Hit rolls of 1 against Dreadnought, Automata and Primarch models as well as any unit with the Monstrous sub-type.
- Models with the Monster Hunter special rule in the Detachment can re-roll failed To Wound rolls against any unit that includes models with the Gargantuan sub-type, and any Armour Penetration rolls made against any model with the Super-Heavy sub-type.
- Any Wildboyz mob in this detachment numbering no more than 10 models may select a Kill Rig as a Dedicated Transport.

LIMITATIONS

- The Detachment must have an Ork Warboss with the Wildboss upgrade as a Warlord.
- The Detachment must include at least one Weirdboy or an Ork Warboss with the Weirdboss upgrade.
- The Detachment must includes more models with the Monstrous unit Sub-type than it does models with the Dreadnought and/or Vehicle unit Type.

DA 'ARDEST WAAAGH!

Any boss 'as ta be 'ard, 'arda den a beakie or a mecha-git. Is why so many bosses loike demselfs a good suit o' mega armor. Course, da boyz in da mob all want wun too, and soon enuff evvrywun in da mob es ded 'ard.

EFFECTS

- A Detachment with this Waaagh! Army may take Ork Meganobz as a Troops choice.
- Units of Ork Meganobz in the Detachment numbering no more than three models may take a Morkanaut and/or Gorkanaut as a dedicated transport.
- The Detachment gains two additional Elites slots. Only Ork Nobz, Ork Meganobz and Ork Nob Bikers may be selected to fill those slots.

LIMITATIONS

- The Detachment must have an Ork Megaboss or Ghazgkhull Mag Uruk Thrakka as a Warlord.
- An Allied Detachment may not have this Waaagh! Army.
- The Detachment may only include a single Fast Attack choice and a single Heavy Support choice.

DA GREEN TIDE

Now 'ere's a proppa ol' timey waaagh! No mega armour, no jets, no meks, just good ol' boyz as far as ork can see showin' da 'umies who's boss. Nuffin can't be solved wiff a boss and more boyz den I 'ave fingas.

EFFECTS

- Units with the Boyz Wave and/or The Unwashed Hordes special rule in the Detachment gain the Unending Horde (4+) special rule.
- Charges made by units with the Boyz Wave or The Unwashed Hordes special rule in the Detachment do not count as Disordered for charging multiple units (but can still count as Disordered for any other reason).
- When a unit from this Detachment that has been placed in Reserves with the Unending Horde (X) special rule enters the battlefield, that unit may enter the battlefield from any part of a battlefield edge that is outside of the opposing player's deployment zone, in addition to its controlling player's battlefield edge. That unit otherwise follows all rules for a unit entering the battlefield from reserves.

LIMITATIONS

- A Detachment with this Waaagh! Army gains 2 additional Compulsory Troops slots. Only units with the Boyz Wave special rule may be selected to fill those slots.

UNENDING HORDE (X)

No, fer real, where 're all dese gits comin' from? Oi've neva met any o' dem.

When a unit composed entirely of models with this special rule has its last model removed as a casualty, the controlling player may choose to roll a D6. On a result equal to or greater than the value in brackets, a unit identical to the one that was removed as casualties (with all models and Wargear listed on the controlling player's army roster) is placed in Reserves – and treated as a new unit. On any other result, the unit is removed as casualties with no further effect. Any Victory points that would be scored for the unit removed as casualties are unaffected and scored as normal, and any new unit that enters Reserves may be used to score Victory points if also removed as casualties. Furthermore, if a new unit placed in Reserves due to this special rule is later removed from play as casualties – it too can be returned to Reserves instead of being removed from play using this special rule.

A unit with this special rule that has been joined by a model after or during deployment (such as via the Mekaniaks Workshop, Painboyz Workshop or the Independent Character special rules) and is subsequently entirely removed as casualties and then returned to Reserves instead of being removed, does not retain any models that had joined it when it returns to Reserves – such models are casualties and do not return to play.

DREAD WAAAGH!

Meks put nobs in kanz, dat's a fact o' loife. Nobs in kans get mad, also true. Lots o' mad nobs in kanz 're gonna stomp a lotta gits ded, dat 'un's fer shure.

EFFECTS

- Gretchin Killa kans in the detachment gain the Line unit Sub-type.
- During the turn during which the controlling player calls a Waaagh!, units with the Dreadnought unit Type in the Detachment gain the Rampage (1) special rule and roll an additional die to determine Charge distances. Those units may select units up to 18" away as a charge target, and may move up to 18" when making Charge moves, rather than 12".

LIMITATIONS

- The Detachment must take Gretchin killa kans as Troops choices, instead of Elites.
- The Detachment must include at least one Big Mek, Big Mek in Mega-Armour or Kustom Meka-Dread. That model gains the Waaagh! special rule and can be your army's Warlord.
- The Detachment can only include a single Fast Attack choice.

LOOTED WAAAGH!

Neva got da 'umies, leavin' perfectly good scrap jus' layin' roun'. Course, we orks would neva do dat. Ye see sumfin you loike, ye take it and ye paint it an orky kolour. Works gud as new.

EFFECTS

- The Detachment may include one unit selected from the Fast Attack or Heavy Support section any army list other than the Waaagh! The Orks! army list that includes only models with the Vehicle unit Type, and no model with the Unique unit Sub-type. Any unit selected this way is paid for from the army's points total and using Force Organisation slots as part of that Detachment as dictated by the unit's profile. That unit's Ballistic Skill characteristic is changed to 2, and it gains the Ramshackle unit Sub-type and the Da Kolours (X) special rule. If that unit has any other special rule that is dependent on being part of a specific army list (such as the Legiones Astartes (X) special rule), or a rule that allows multiple units to be taken as a single Force Organization choice (such as the Tercio special rule), that special rule has no effect.
- Units of Looted Wagons in the Detachment may be selected as a non-compulsory Troops choice, instead of Heavy Support. Units of Looted Wagons that are selected as a Troops choice in this way gain the Line unit Sub-Type.

LIMITATIONS

- The Detachment must fill all of its Compulsory Troops choices with only Ork Lootas (This does not allow Ork Lootas to be selected as a non-compulsory Troops choice).
- The Detachment must include at least 1 Mekaniaks Workshop, with at least 1 Mek for every Ork Lootas unit in the Detachment. Each unit of Ork Lootas in the Detachment must begin the battle with an attached Mek.
- The Detachment may not include any units with the Monstrous unit Sub-type.

MEK WAAAGH!

Wunce in a while, a Mek krumps 'iz way ta da top o' da mob, yoozully by walkin' ova da boss wiff a stompa. Dese're weird waaaghs, 'dose 'unz. Bunch o' wagons, weird guns, stompas, an' way too many grots.

EFFECTS

- One unit of Kill Wagons, Kill Krusha Tanks, Kill Bursta Bombards, Kill Blasta Bombards, Ork Morkanaut, or Ork Gorkanaut in the Detachment may be taken as a Heavy Support choice instead of Lord of War. That unit must only include a single model.
- Any unit in the detachment that can take a Trukk as a dedicated transport, and numbers no more than 22 models, may take a Battlewagon as a Dedicated Transport.
- Any unit in the detachment that can take a Trukk as a dedicated transport, and numbers no more than 12 models, may take a Gunwagon as a Dedicated Transport.
- Any unit in the detachment that can take a Trukk as a dedicated transport, and numbers no more than 16 models, may take a Big trakk as a Dedicated Transport.

LIMITATIONS

- The Detachment must include at least 1 Big mek, Big mek in mega-armour or Kustom meka-dread. That model gains the Waaagh! and Da Boss special rules and must be your army's Warlord.
- An Allied Detachment may not have this Waaagh! Army.
- The Detachment must include more Vehicle units (counting Dedicated Transports with the Vehicle unit Type as one unit) than it does other units.

SPEED WAAAGH!

Orks love speed, an' da fasta dey go, da more dey love speed. A good speed waaagh can run all aroun' a planet ten toimes smashin' erryfin in ets way fore da meks 're done building dere first stompas.

EFFECTS

- The Detachment may take units of Ork Warbikers and Ork Deffkoptas as Troops choices, rather than Fast Attack. Units of Ork Warbikers taken as Compulsory Troops in this way gain the Line unit Sub-type.
- Vehicle models in the Detachment (excepting those with the Flyer sub-Type) and Mek Kartz in the Detachment gain the Mega-Charga special rule.

LIMITATIONS

- The Detachment must have an Ork Speedboss as a Warlord.
- The Detachment may not include any models with the Dreadnought unit Type or the Reinforced, Bombard or Artillery unit Sub-types.

MEGA-CHARGA

All da boostas ye see on a speed wagon 're always linked ta a single red button, roite dere in da driva's cabin.

Each time a unit that includes only models with this special rule is selected to Move or Ram, you can roll a D6 for each model in the unit. If the result of the die is 2 or more, the Movement characteristic of the model being rolled for is increased by the result of the die until the end of that Move or Ram. On a roll of 1, the Movement characteristic of the model being rolled for is halved (rounded up) until the end of that Move or Ram instead. If this causes a model to be unable to move far enough to Ram its target, the model must move at Cruising Speed so that it ends this move as close as possible to the target instead.

STAMPEDIN' WAAAGH!

'Ey, oi jus' came back from da squig pens and dey were empty. 'Ave we been keepin' tabs on da squigdoks? Oi'm getting worried dey left wiffout us.

EFFECTS

- Ork Squighog Boyz units may be taken as Compulsory Troops, instead of Fast Attack. Note that this does not allow the Detachment to take Squighog Boyz as Compulsory Troops. Additionally, Ork Squighog Mobs in the Detachment gain the Line unit sub-Type.
- Any unit in the Detachment that would be eligible to select a Trukk as a dedicated transport may instead select a Squiggoth as a dedicated transport.
- The Detachment may include a single Gargantuan Squiggoth as a Heavy Support choice, instead of Lord of War.
- Ork Squighog Boyz, Squiggoths, and Gargantuan Squiggoths units in the Detachment, as well as any Character model that has selected a Squighog, Smasha Squig or Squigosaur as an upgrade, gain +2 to their Movement characteristic during the first game turn only.

LIMITATIONS

- The Detachment must have a model with a Squighog, Smash Squig or Squigosaur as a Warlord.
- The Detachment may include no more than one unit with the Vehicle Unit Type and no more than one unit with the Dreadnought Unit Type.
- Any units with the Infantry or Dreadnought unit Type in the Detachment that do not begin the battle upon a transport must be held in reserves at the start of the battle, unless the mission does not allow for reserves.

SEKRET WAAAGH!

Es et even a proppa Waaagh! if dey dun't 'ear ye comin'? Oi guess at least Mork's 'appy.

EFFECTS

- Ork Kommandos units in the Detachment lose the Support Squad special rule.
- If this detachment's controlling player declares a Waaagh!, then all reserve rolls made for Flanking Assaults by that player in the same turn are automatically succesful.
- A single unit in the Detachment may be given the Infiltrate special rule at no additional point cost. If the army includes a Lord of War detachment with the Orks sub-faction, then the Lord of War choice selected as part of that Detachment may be given the Infiltrate special rule instead.

LIMITATIONS

- The Detachment must have a Warboss with the Snikboss upgrade as a Warlord.
- All Compulsory Troops slots in the Detachment must be filled with Ork Kommandos.
- The Detachment may only include a single Heavy Support choice.

TELLYPORTED WAAAGH!

'Dey say 'ere we go, but dat's only half da story. Sumtimes, you gotta go somewhere ye can't jus' run ta, an' so a Mek gets a broight idea and moikes a big tellyporta so we's can get dere an' start smashin'. Or, ye know, get lost in da screamy bad place, dat also 'appens.

EFFECTS

- All units in the Detachment, except units with the Super-Heavy, Knight, or Titan unit Sub-type gain the Deep Strike special rule.
- All units in the Detachment gain the Line unit Sub-type during a turn in which they arrive from reserves as part of a Deep Strike Assault.

LIMITATIONS

- The Detachment must include a Big Mek or Big Mek in Mega-Armour. That model gains the Tellyport Beacon special rule. It must be deployed on the battlefield at the start of battle and cannot be held back in reserves.
- Exactly half of the units in the Detachment, rounded up, must be held back in reserves and perform a Deep Strike Assault, ignoring all other rules and restrictions.
- No units in the Detachment's army may be held back in reserves, except units performing a Deep Strike Assault, ignoring all other rules and restrictions.
- The Detachment may not include any units with the Flyer unit Sub-Type.

TELLYPORT BEACON

Oops, dropped da fing. Dat's foine, roite? Roite?

The controlling player may re-roll any Scatter rolls made as part of the deployment of a model or unit via a Deep Strike Assault, as long as a model with this special rule is within 12" the point chosen as the target of the deployment.

In addition, whilst at least one model with this special rule is on the battlefield, the controlling player may re-roll the die to see if units performing a Deep Strike Assault arrive from reserves.

If the last model with this special rule on the controlling player's side is destroyed and removed as casualties, that player must immediately perform a Deep Strike Assault before that model is removed as a casualty if any unit on their side are held back in reserves as part of a Deep Strike Assault, but that Deep Strike Assault is automatically Disordered and, after deploying all models as part of that Deep Strike Assault, roll a D6 for each. On a 1, that model suffers a Wound/Glancing Hit with no saves or damage mitigation rolls of any kind allowed.

WRECKIN' WAAAGH!

Dese wreckas and des tankbustas... You'd fink dey'd get along, but dey relly relly dun't. Dey 'ate each ovva so much, dey're always stikken togeevva an' fightin' as a group and competin' to see who's da bester at wreckkin' wagons. Den dey foite sum more ovva dinner. Den dey all go ta sleep in da wreckkaj' dey made dat day. All togeevva, becoz dey 'ate each ovva so much.

EFFECTS

- Units of Ork Tankbustas and Ork Wrecka Mobs in the Detachment gain the Line Unit sub-Type and lose the Support Squad special rule.
- So long as a unit of Ork Tankbustas and a unit of Ork Wrecka Mob in the Detachment are within 12" of each other, all models in both units can re-roll Armour Penetration and Vehicle Damage Table rolls of 1.
- Any unit in the Detachment that could select a Trukk as a dedicated transport, and numbers no more than 8 models, may instead select a Looted Wagon as a Dedicated Transport.

LIMITATIONS

- The Detachment must include at least one Ork Tankbustas unit and one Ork Wrecka Mob unit.
- All Compulsory Troops in the Detachment must be Ork Tankbustas and Ork Wrecka Mobs.
- Only Vehicles with the Transport sub-Type and/or Rolling Scrap Pile special rule may be included in the Detachment.

ORK SPECIAL RULES

‘ARD CASE

If et dies too kwik, slap big metal plates on et. ‘Es ol’ ork know-wotz.

Any model with this special rule that suffers an unsaved Wound with the Instant death special rule is not immediately removed as a casualty, but instead loses 3 Wounds instead of one for each unsaved Wound with the Instant death special rule inflicted on it.

BOYZ WAVE

Oy neva seen a scrap dat’s ‘ad more ovva fings den orks, ‘cept maybe bugs, ‘n bugs ‘re squishy.

Up to two units with this special rule may be selected to fill a single Troops choice slot instead of only one.

All units selected in this manner count as part of the same Troops choice for the purposes of Army Selection and Deployment only; when deployed onto the battlefield or into Reserves they are counted as a single unit and all units selected as part of the same Troops choice must be deployed at the same time (but are not required to deploy in proximity with each other) – and if placed into Reserves then all units in that choice must be placed into Reserves. Likewise, when making Reserves rolls one roll is made for all units selected as part of the same choice.

Once deployed onto the battlefield, all units selected in this manner are treated as separate and distinct units or choices for any Primary or Secondary Objectives or other special rules and operate as separate units in all ways. Units selected as part of the same Troops choice may have different options selected for them, and are not required to be identical.

BRUTAL

When a model is allocated a Wound inflicted by a weapon with this special rule, it does not suffer only one Wound but instead suffers a number of Wounds equal to the number in brackets associated with the specific variant of this special rule, with all of the Wounds inflicted using the same AP and special rules as that of the initial Wound. Roll to save against each Wound inflicted separately, but note that Wounds caused in excess of a given model’s remaining Wounds do not spill over to other models and are lost. This special rule has no effect on models that do not have a Toughness value.

DA BOSS

Can’t ‘ave too many bosses ‘round. Gets too confusin’, an’ da boyz ‘re too busy watchin’ ‘em scrap each ovva ta foight propp’ly.

An Detachment can only include a single model with the Da Boss special rule for every 1000 points of your army which are selected from that Detachment. If your army includes any models with this special rule, one of them must be your Warlord and, during deployment, no models with the Da Boss special rule in the controlling player’s army may be deployed within 24” of each other.

DA RUNTZ

So wot, dey got splatted? Dey’re grots. Nobody cares.

The opposing player never gains Victory points for removing a unit that includes any models with this special rule as casualties. However, if a unit that includes any models with this special rule fails a Morale check, it does not Fall Back, but instead all models in the unit are removed from play as casualties immediately.

DEFF ARSENAL

E’s rainin’ bomms! Ha ha ha! Boom! Boom! Let ‘em rain, flyboys!

During each of the controlling player’s Movement phase, a model with this special rule may make up to 4 Bombing Runs each time it makes a Zoom move, rather than just one. Each Bombing Run may target different units. If the model performs more than one Bombing Run this way, it may only make Snap Shots with its other weapons during the following Shooting Phase.

DESTRUCTOR

Jus’ don’t stand in front o’ dat ‘un. Ye’ll fank me later.

Any model which suffers an unsaved Wound or Hull Point loss from a weapon with this special rule instead suffers D6 unsaved Wounds or Hull Points of damage. In addition, if the target of this attack is a model with the Knight, Titan, Super-heavy Vehicle, or Building or Fortification Unit Type, or the Monstrous Unit Sub-type, increase the number of Wounds suffered or Hull Points lost to 2D6.

DETONATION

Tankbustin’ bomms ain’t jus’ gud fer bustin’ tanks. Dey work jus’ foine on walls, slow-movin’ beasties, beakies dat got dere legs cut off...

A weapon with this special rule may only be used to attack models of the Vehicle, Dreadnought or Automata Unit Types, any model with a Movement Characteristic of 0 or ‘-’, or Buildings or Fortifications. Furthermore, a model that is chosen to attack with a weapon with this special rule during the Assault phase may only make a single attack in the Fight subphase, regardless of its Attacks Characteristic and any bonus attacks from Charging or other special rules.

DIRECT IMPACT

Dese gunz make big booms, fer shor, but a good 'it can toike da knees off one o' dem lanky 'umie stompas.

A weapon with this special rule also has a variant of the Blast special rule. If, after determining the final position of the Blast Template when making a Shooting Attack with a weapon with this special rule, a model is under the exact center of the template, then at least one Hit from that attack must be allocated to that model. When rolling To Wound or for Armour Penetration for that attack, roll for that Hit first and it gains the Destructor special rule.

DREAD MOB

Naw, stay tugevva, dun't run offaaaaan' dere dey go...

When deployed onto the battlefield (either at the start of the battle or when arriving from Reserves), all models with this special rule in a unit must be placed within unit coherency, but afterwards operate independently and are not treated as a unit.

DROP RUN

Jumpin' offa jet ez bad enuff, but dey do et wiff a rokkit strapped ta dere back! Loike, wot?

Units can disembark from a model with this special rule during a turn in which it made a Zoom move.

When a unit Disembarks from a model with this special rule, use the following procedure instead of disembarking normally: place one model from the disembarking unit on a point that the transport moved over this turn that is more than 1" from any enemy model, battlefield edge of piece of impassible terrain, then scatter that model, stopping if the model would get within 1" of any enemy model or piece of impassible terrain.

Once the model's final position has been determined, deploy the rest of the unit in coherency with it. Any models that cannot be placed in coherency with the unit and at least 1" away from enemy models are destroyed.

Models equipped with Rokkit Packs must activate their Rokkit Packs to disembark from a model with this special rule, including when performing an emergency disembarkation.

'EADBUTT O' DA GODZ

E'S DOIN' ET! E'S DOIN' ET! E'S-

During a turn in which the controlling player called a Waaagh!, a model with this special rule can Ram, even though it has the Flyer Sub-type. If it does, the model is immediately reduced to 0 Hull Points and subsequently suffers Catastrophic Damage.

EFFIGY

Da gargants 're da big statues o' da godz, so da godz kno where ta luk an' who ta watch ova. An' all da boyz dat 're unda da shadow o' da gargant know dat.

A model with this special rule ignores all Psychic Powers and Cybertheurgic Rites and Attacks made by Psychic and Cybertheurgic Weapons. In addition, a model with this special rule ignores the effects of the Haywire and Disruption (X) special rules. In all cases, weapons which benefit from these special rules must attempt to damage a model with this special rule normally using the attack's Strength value. In addition, all friendly units with the Ork faction with at least one model within 24" of a model with this special rule gain the Fearless special rule.

ENFORCER

Aye, dat's da boss' fav'rite boot-lickin' nob. Meenz we gots ta listen ta 'im, 'cos e's a snitch, too.

If a detachment includes a model with this special rule, and your army includes less than 1000 points' worth of models, then that detachment may select a Waaagh! Army, even though it includes less than 1000 points' worth of models. This does not allow the detachment to call a Waaagh! if it includes no models with the Waaagh! special rule. Any other restriction to that Waaagh! army still apply.

'ERE WE GO!

We da orks. Orks go where dey please. An' where dey please is ta Waaagh!

When a unit that includes a majority of models with this special rule makes a Charge move, roll an additional D6 to determine the Charge distance and before determining the result discard the lowest single dice rolled.

FLASH OF KOLOURS

Can ye believe dese flashy gitz? More den wun kolour! Dey're jus' a buncha showoffs.

At the start of the controlling player's turn, that player can change the Da Kolours (X) special rule of a unit to a different Kolour, so long as all models in the unit have the Flash of Kolours special rule.

FLYING FORTRESS

*Orks rule da sky jus' as much as orks rule da land.
We'z gonna overrun it all, an' bring armour-geddem from errywhere.*

Only models equipped with Deffkoptas or Rokkit Packs may be embarked upon this a model with this special rule. Models equipped with Deffkoptas can Embark upon a model with this special rule, even though they have the Cavalry unit Type, and are counted as 4 models each for the purpose of transport capacity.

FLYIN' 'EADBUTT

Jus' coz ye put a boy inna jet don't meen dere nawt goin' ta wan' ta 'eadbutt sumfin'. Wiff da jet.

During a turn in which the controlling player called a Waaagh!, a model with this special rule can Ram, even though it has the Flyer Sub-type. If it does, it immediately Crashes and Burn (see the Vehicle Damage Table) after resolving the Ram.

FULL SPEED AHEAD

Da grots 're getting betta. Dis 'un es movin' almost as fast as a lazy boy..

Whilst a unit includes a model with this Special Rule, all Vehicles in that unit gain the Fast Vehicle Sub-type.

GARGANTUAN TRANSPORT

Ya, ya can roide on a big 'uns, but 'es 'ard ta find enuff grots for dem ta munch on so dey're distracted while all da boyz climb on.

For the purpose of the Transport Sub-type, a model with this Special Rule is counted as a Super-heavy Vehicle.

GNAW

Successful Armour Saves made against a weapon with this special rule must be re-rolled.

HAMMERING (X)

'Naut wiff a rolla... Now dere's an oidea...

When a model with a weapon with this special rule performs a Hammer of Wrath attack, it inflicts a number of additional hits equal to the value of X. Both the model's Hammer of Wrath attacks and these additional hits are resolved using the profile of the weapon with this special rule.

KABOOM! (X)

Da gargants will neva fall! Nev... Oh... Take cova!

When a model with this special rule is destroyed, its Catastrophic Damage is modified corresponding to the term in brackets listed in this special rule, as follows.

EAR-SPLITTING

When destroyed, a model with this special rule resolves Hits caused by Catastrophic Damage as Destroyer attacks.

EARTH-SHATTERING

When destroyed, a model with this special rule resolves Hits caused by Catastrophic Damage as Destroyer attacks at AP2.

ARMOUR-GEDDEM

When destroyed, a model with this special rule resolves Hits caused by Catastrophic Damage as Destroyer attacks at AP2, and doubles the range of the Catastrophic Damage effect.

KUSTOM

Ye shoor ye want ta flick all dose switches on?

Each time a model fires a weapon that has this special rule, the controlling player can choose to have that shooting attack gain one or more of the following special rules: Deflagrate, Shred, and/or Brutal (2). If a player does, that weapon gains the Gets Hot special rule until that attack is resolved. If two special rules are chosen, the weapon will Get Hot on a To Hit roll of 1 or 2; if all three are chosen, the weapon will Get Hot on a To Hit roll of 1, 2 or 3.

LIFTA-DROPPA (X)

Look'it 'em go!

Each time an attack is made with a weapon that has this special rule, do not roll To Hit. Instead, select a Vehicle model (except a Superheavy, Knight or Titan model) or a model with 6 or more Wounds (except a Gargantuan model) (referred to as the "lifted" model) within range of the weapon and scatter that model, stopping if it would get within 1" of another model, a battlefield edge, or a piece of impassible terrain.

If an arrow is rolled when scattering the model, the weapon inflicts a number of Hits upon the model equal to the value listed in brackets in this Special Rule. Your opponent can then move any other models in that model's unit, if any, the shortest distance possible so that they remain in coherency with the lifted model.

If a Hit is rolled, the model remains in place and the weapon inflicts a number of Hits upon the model equal to twice the value listed in brackets in this Special Rule.

MEKANIAKS WORKSHOP

Da meks keep fightin' ovva da gud scrap if dey stikk togevva, so uzully dey 'ang 'round ovva boyz dat wan' dere stuff tinkered.

A Mekaniaks Workshop is selected as any other unit, using up a single Force Organisation slot and bought in the same manner. However, before the first turn begins and any models are deployed to the battlefield, all models in a Mekaniaks Workshop must be assigned to another unit from the same Detachment of the army they were selected as part of. Mek that have not selected a Warbike or Deffkopta may only be assigned to units composed entirely of models with the Infantry Unit Type, and may not join units with Mega-armour. Mek that have selected a Warbike may only be assigned to units composed entirely of models with Warbikes, and any Mek that have selected a Deffkopta may only be assigned to units composed entirely of models with Deffkoptas. No Mek may be assigned to any unit that includes one or more models with the Independent Character special rule or Unique Sub-type (but such models may join a unit that includes a Mek as normal during either deployment or any following turn). No more than one Mek may be assigned to any given unit.

Once assigned to a unit, the Mek is considered part of that unit and may not leave it under any circumstances – if that unit is removed as a casualty then the Mek is removed as well. In battles using Victory points, no Victory points are ever scored for removing a Mek as a casualty.

When assigned to a unit, a Mek gains all of the special rules (with the exception of those that specifically forbid it) and Unit Sub-types listed for the unit to which it is attached, including that unit's Da Kolours (X) special rule, but does not gain access to any additional Wargear options available to the unit to which it is assigned.

MONSTROUS TRANSPORT

Es nawt so diff'rent from a wagon wiff legs instead'a wheels, an' dat eats gits instead'a fuel.

For the purpose of the Transport Sub-type, a model with this Special Rule is counted as a Vehicle.

MORE DAKKA!

Even orks 're neva goin' ta 'ave enuff dakka. E's a sad truff o' da yooniverse. But wez can get close enuff.

When a model with this special rule makes a Shooting attack with an Auto weapon, for each To Hit roll of 6, that model immediately makes another attack with the same ranged weapon against the same target. Those additional attacks can generate further attacks. This special rule has no effect on attacks that have any variant of the Blast or Template special rule, or on attacks that are resolved as Snap Shots.

PAINBOYZ WORKSHOP

Lettin' da painboyz stikk 'round ye ez nice enuff 'coz dey can fix you up, but da fing ez... Da prickly bitz... So many prickly bitz...

A Painboyz Workshop is selected as any other unit, using up a single Force Organisation slot and bought in the same manner. However, before the first turn begins and any models are deployed to the battlefield, all models in a Painboyz Workshop must be assigned to another unit from the same Detachment of the army they were selected as part of. Painboyz that have not selected a Warbike or Squighog may only be assigned to units composed entirely of models with the Infantry Unit Type, and may not join units with Mega-armour. Painboyz that have selected a Warbike may only be assigned to units composed entirely of models with Warbikes. Painboyz that have selected a Squighog may only be assigned to units composed entirely of models with Squighogs. No Painboy may be assigned to any unit that includes one or more models with the Independent Character special rule or Unique Sub-type (but such models may join a unit that includes a Painboy as normal during either deployment or any following turn). No more than one Painboy may be assigned to any given unit.

Once assigned to a unit, the Painboy is considered part of that unit and may not leave it under any circumstances – if that unit is removed as a casualty then the Painboy is removed as well. In battles using Victory points, no Victory points are ever scored for removing a Painboy as a casualty.

When assigned to a unit, a Painboy gains all of the special rules (with the exception of those that specifically forbid it) and Unit Sub-types listed for the unit to which it is attached, including that unit's Da Kolours (X) special rule, but does not gain access to any additional Wargear options available to the unit to which it is assigned.

PERILOUS

Quit playin' wiff dat fing!

A model may only ever make a single Attack when attacking with a weapon that has this special rule, regardless of their Attacks Characteristic and any bonuses gained for Charging.

If a model causes a Hit when attacking with a weapon that has this special rule, then for the remainder of the current game that weapon can no longer be used, even if the Hit fails to Wound.

POWER FIELDS (X)

Can't let da godz' gargants get blown up ezzy, so da meks put da bestest an' shiniest krakkies on dem.

A model with this special rule has a number of Power Fields, as listed on its profile. Shooting Attacks which Hit a model with this special rule instead target this model's Power Fields while at least one remains active. Power Fields have an Armour Value of 10. A successful Glancing Hit, Penetrating Hit or any successful Hit from a Destroyer weapon which targets a Power Field causes it to collapse, reducing the number 'X' by -1. When the number of Power Fields is reduced to 0, this special rule has no further effect and subsequent Shooting Attacks target the model instead. Power Fields have no effect on close combat attacks, and may not be affected by close combat attacks.

PSYCHO-DAKKA BLAST!!

Dis gun is fueled wiff ork powa! So it's da strongest and greene- why'd da weirdboy just 'asplode?

Before making attacks with a Weapon with this special rule, one friendly Psyker model with either the Waaagh! Energy or Waaagh! Locus special rule within 12" of the firing model may take a Psychic Check. If the Check is successful then the Strength value of any attacks made is doubled. If the Check is failed then Perils of the Warp is resolved targeting the unit containing the model that failed its Check, though the weapon may still be fired normally (even if the Psyker is destroyed).

A Weapon with this special rule is treated as having the Force special rule for the purpose of rules that refer to the Force special rule.

PULSA WAVE

A mek told me dey "in-varted" da "powa capassiters" on a big krakkly, an' put it on a rokket. Shud be fun ta watch.

Each unit that is hit by a weapon with this special rule suffers D3 Hits for each of its models under the template, rather than just one. This is increased to D6 for Knight, Titan and Super-Heavy Vehicle models, as well as for models with 8 or more Wounds.

In addition, leave the Blast Marker in place after resolving all Wounds caused by a weapon with this special rule, or otherwise mark the area. This area counts as both Difficult Terrain and Dangerous Terrain until the end of the next Game Turn.

PYROMANIA

We keep 'avin ta remind dem da burn gits an' not us, but at least dere gud at dat.

During a turn in which the controlling player calls a Waaagh!, a model with this special rule makes one additional shot each time it fires a Flame weapon.

RAM (X)

Haw-Haw! Get rolled, ya gits!

When a model with a weapon with this special rule performs a Ram Attack, it inflicts a number of additional hits equal to the value of X. These additional hits are resolved using the profile of the weapon with this special rule (if the weapon has a strength modifier instead of a strength characteristic, then the strength of the attack is equal to half the Front Armour of the vehicle with all modifiers taken into account).

RAMSHACKLE COLOSSUS

Da bigga da stompa, da more it dun't fall, 'coz et's 'arda an' stronga den anyfin!

A model with this special rule improves the Invulnerable Save it receives from the Ramshackle unit Sub-type to 5+.

In addition, when a model with this special rule suffers the Explodes result from the Vehicle Damage Table, roll on the following table instead of rolling on the standard table in the Ramshackle unit Sub-type.

- 1: Nuffin ta Eet: The Explodes result is ignored and no additional Hull Points are lost.
- 2-5: Oh No: Resolve the Explodes result as normal.
- 6: Structural Collapse: Each unit, friendly and enemy, within 8" of the Vehicle and in the facing that the Penetrating Hit that caused the Explodes result was inflicted on suffers a number of Hits at S8, AP- for each of its models that is within range. Then resolve the Explodes result as normal.

RITUAL PAIR

Oh, jus' get anovva 'un o' the soime, ye'll fank me later.

A model that is equipped with two Melee weapons that have this special rule, and chooses one to fight with in close combat, receives +2 attacks instead of the usual +1 for fighting with two Melee weapons.

ROLLING SCRAP PILE

On da roite ez da grot tank, on da left ez da scrap poile. I fink? No, wait, which woz et again? Eh, dun't matter.

A model with this special rule improves the Invulnerable Save it receives from the Ramshackle unit Sub-type to 5+.

In addition, when a model with this special rule suffers the Explodes result from the Vehicle damage table, instead the model is destroyed and removed from the battlefield (it does not inflict any Hits on nearby units, but does not leave a Wreck).

ROWDY KREW

Haha, 'ow many grots did dey cram in dat fing?

A Vehicle with this special rule can target a different unit with each of its Ranged weapons in the Shooting phase, and must target at least two different units each time it is selected to make a Shooting attack unless there is only one unit that can be targeted.

SNARE

Krakklies 're nawt jus' good at stopping bullets! Ye can fire dem at gits ta 'old 'em in place while we snik'em.

Each time a weapon with this special rule causes a Penetrating Hit against a Vehicle that causes a roll on the Vehicle Damage Table, that model automatically suffers the Immobilized result, without having to roll.

In addition, if a unit suffers any unsaved Wounds from a weapon that has this special rule, its Movement speed is halved and it may not run or charge until the end of the following turn.

SNEAKY GITZ

Can't stan' sneaky gits. neakin' 'round loike dis, est jus' nawt orky. 'Es almost knife ear-loike! Er, none o' dem 're behind me, roite?

Whenever targeted by a Shooting Attack, the range between an attacking unit and a unit that includes only models with this special rule is considered to be 6" further than the actual range between the two units – enemy models with the Night Vision special rule and models with the Primarch Unit Type ignore this effect.

In addition, when attacked by a weapon with the Barrage special rule, a unit that includes only models with this special rule is always treated as though it was out of line of sight when scattering any attacks.

TANKBUSTAS

Dunno wot it ez tanks eva did ta 'em, but dey shoor loike blowin' em up.

During the turn in which the controlling player calls a Waaagh, any Hit inflicted by a model with this special rule with a Melee Weapon, Ranged Weapon or Bomb Squig gains the Sunder special rule.

TANK RIDERS

Wot do ye meen, "we'z full"? Watch me.

A model with the Tank Riders special rule gains the Infantry Transport and Assault Vehicle special rules.

Units can Embark onto or Disembark from a Vehicle with this special rule from any point on its Side and/or Rear facings.

Each time a Vehicle with this special rule is hit with a weapon that has any variant of the Blast or Template special rule, each unit Embarked upon it suffers D6 Hits, at the weapon's Strength and AP and with all of the weapon's special rules, in addition to any other effects.

TANTRUM

Oi ain't seen nuffin dat can't stand in da way o' a Mega-Gargant yet.

Whenever a model with this special rule makes Stomp attacks, double the number of attacks made.

THE UNWASHED HORDES

Uhhh... Dat's achttully a worrying amount.

Up to three units with this special rule may be selected to fill a single Troops choice slot instead of only one.

All units selected in this manner count as part of the same Troops choice for the purposes of Army Selection and Deployment only; when deployed onto the battlefield or into Reserves they are counted as a single unit and all units selected as part of the same Troops choice must be deployed at the same time (but are not required to deploy in proximity with each other) – and if placed into Reserves then all units in that choice must be placed into Reserves. Likewise, when making Reserves rolls one roll is made for all units selected as part of the same choice.

Once deployed onto the battlefield, all units selected in this manner are treated as separate and distinct units or choices for any Primary or Secondary Objectives or other special rules and operate as separate units in all ways. Units selected as part of the same Troops choice may have different options selected for them, and are not required to be identical.

TOWERING MONSTROSITY

Yer shoor da foice eez on roite? Oy can't see da top...

No melee attack made by models with the Knight Unit Sub-type or the Super-heavy Unit Sub-type may successfully hit a model with this special rule on better than a 5+. No melee attack made by models with the Automata, Cavalry, Dreadnoughts, and Infantry Unit Types may successfully hit a model with this special rule on better than a 6+.

TRAMPLE

Always fun ta go an' watch da big squigs krump ovva sum poor gits, innit?

A model with this special rule that is engaged in combat may make a special type of attack called a Trample attack. The Trample attacks are made in addition to the model's normal attacks. Trample attacks are resolved during the Fight subphase at the Initiative 1 step. A model makes a number of Trample attacks equal to the roll of a D3 + the model's unmodified Attacks Characteristic. All Trample attacks are made at the Model's unmodified WS and resolved at the model's unmodified Strength with an AP value of 2. Trample attacks cannot be made against Knights and Titans, Flyers, Super-heavy Vehicles or any model with 8 or more Wounds.

VARIABLE SPEED

Ye, da meks let grots moike tanks outta scrap sumtimes. We'z dun't let dem toike any engines fough so 'es a mystery 'ow dey go.

Each time a unit with this special rule is selected to make a Move or Ram, roll once the amount of dice indicated in brackets in its Movement characteristic to determine the Movement characteristic of all models in the unit until the end of the current phase.

VARIABLE STRENGTH

Wot ya meen, "outta joos"? Et woz firin' foine yestaday!

Each time a weapon with this special rule inflicts one or more Hits as part of a Shooting Attack, roll once the amount of D6 listed in the weapon's Strength characteristic, and add any additive modifiers, to determine the Strength of all of those Hits.

When determining whether a weapon with this special rule is a defensive or battle weapon, always use its maximum possible Strength.

WAAAGH! ARTILLERY

Da biggest an' best ork guns dun't jus' work loike dat, else we'd get lazy. Ya gotta get a real waaagh! goin' fore da godz will moike et work.

A Weapon with this special rule can only be fired once per battle, and only during a turn in which the controlling player calls a Waaagh!. If a weapon with this special rule has multiple profiles, and one of them has this special rule, this only applies to the profile with this special rule.

Once a weapon with the Waaagh! Artillery special rule has been used to attack, it is no longer counted as a weapon and may not be destroyed (for example, by rolls on the Vehicle Damage Table) or repaired by any other rules or effects, unless it has multiple profiles and only one profile has the Waaagh! Artillery special rule.

WAAAGH! ENERGY

We keep weirdboyz away from da centa o' da camp, 'coz dey 'asplode if dere's too many orks being too loud, an' orks are always loud.

When making a Psychic Check for a model with this special rule, substitute the model's Leadership characteristic with the amount of other models with the Mob unit Sub-type within 12", to a minimum of 1. If this causes the model's Leadership to be greater than 12, the Psychic Check is automatically successful, but the model suffers an automatic Wound after resolving the effects of the Psychic Power. Only invulnerable saves may be taken against that Wound.

WAAAGH! LOCUS

Oh, dat moikes sense! Put da weirdboy on a big tower so dere nawt too close to da boyz! An' so when dey 'asplode it dozzn't get gore errywhere!

When making a Psychic Check for a model with this special rule, substitute the model's Leadership characteristic with the amount of models with the Mob unit Sub-type that are embarked upon the model and within 3" of it. If this causes the model's Leadership characteristic to be greater than 10, the Psychic Check is automatically successful, but the model suffers an automatic Wound after resolving the effects of the Psychic Power. Only Invulnerable Saves may be taken against that Wound.

WRECKIN' KREW

Stop! Stop! E'ts already ded!

During the turn in which the controlling player calls a Waaagh, any Hit inflicted by a model with this special rule with a Melee Weapon, Ranged Weapon or Bomb Squig gains the Wrecker special rule.

ZZAP!

Can't miss wiff'a zzap, really. Point, click, 'es gonna zzap sumfin'.

When making a Shooting Attack with a weapon with this special rule, a model is counted as having a Ballistic Skill characteristic of 5 for the purpose of those attacks, unless the attack is resolved as a Snap Shot. Any other modifiers to the model's Ballistic Skill (such as the -1 BS penalty for the Night Fighting provision) are applied to the model's modified Ballistic Skill.

KOMBI-WEPONS

Nail a shoota ta a shoota, now ye gots a shoota, dat shoots, while et shoots.

Kombi-wepons are divided into two types: mini and mega. Both are composed of a primary weapon and a secondary weapon, and a model with any combi-weapon may attack with both primary and secondary weapons in the same Shooting Attack without needing the Firing Protocols (X) special rule.

Any profile that allows a model to select a mini kombi-weapon grants the model a weapon with a Shoota as the primary weapon and a secondary weapon chosen from the following list: Rokkit launcha, Shokka gun or Zzap blasta.

Any profile that allows a model to select a mega kombi-weapon grants the model a weapon with a Shoota as the primary weapon and a secondary weapon chosen from the following list: Skorcha or Boomstick.

ORK WARGEAR

BOARDING PLANK

Da plank 'ez mostly 'ere ta trikk da boyz ta all get outta da truk in a loine instead'a all jumpin' out da closest side.

A model with a Boarding plank gains the Assault Vehicle special rule.

BOSSPOLE

A good big ork needs a good pole dat tells all da skrap dey got in, so da ovva boyz get jelly an' fite 'arda.

A model with a Bosspole counts as one additional model for the purpose of the Mob unit Sub-type.

CYBORK BODY

Self-destruktin' skull? Looks soife enuff.

A model with a Cybork Body adds +1 to its Invulnerable Save (to a maximum of 3+), or gains an Invulnerable Save of 6+ if they do not already possess one. In addition, succesful To Wound rolls made for weapons with the Poisoned or Fleshbane special rule must be re-rolled against models with a Cybork Body.

However, a model with a Cybork Body may not move or shoot as part of Reactions its unit makes.

'EAVY ARMOUR

Oi kno et's 'eavy! E's da point! Now put et on!

A model with 'Eavy armour has a 4+ Armour saving throw, and any model with 'Eavy armour gains the Heavy unit Sub-type.

'EAVY SLAB

See? Any truk looks betta wiff a big ol' mean foice moide outer noice fick ploite in front!

A model with a 'Eavy Slab can re-roll failed Dangerous Terrain tests.

In addition, the Strength of any Hits inflicted by a Vehicle with a 'Eavy Slab on an enemy model as part of a Ram or Hammer of Wrath Attack is increased by 1.

A 'Eavy Slab is not considered a weapon and may not be targeted by the Weapon Destroyed result on the Vehicle Damage Table.

DOK TOOLS

Da dok lied ta me! Da 'urty bitz do 'urt! An' 'e sowed me bud's arm on backwards ta boot.

All models with the Infantry or Cavalry Unit Types in a unit that includes at least one model with Dok tools gain the Feel No Pain (5+) special rule. Models with the Artillery Sub-type are not affected by this special rule and do not gain the Feel No Pain (X) special rule.

FIRING DECK (ARC, X)

A roof? Youze mad? We'z can't shoot'em if dere's a roof!

A Firing Deck is a mount that does not include any weapons, instead it allows models Embarked upon the Transport to fire the weapons they are equipped with from the Vehicle. A Firing Deck will note in brackets both the arc into which it can fire as well as the number of embarked models that can fire from it. Each embarked model firing from a Firing Deck measures its range and line of sight from the hull of the Transport on the listed facing and may fire one Ranged weapon it is equipped with as per the normal rules for Shooting.

All weapons used by Embarked models are counted as being Defensive Weapons, regardless of their Strength. Models attacking from a Firing Deck may select a different target from the rest of the Vehicle's weapons, but all attacks made from a Firing Deck must have the same target.

Models firing from a Firing Deck are not counted towards the maximum amount of weapons a Vehicle can attack with in the Shooting Phase. Embarked models count as having moved for the purpose of shooting from a Firing Deck if their Transport moved during the previous Movement phase, and may only fire Snap Shots if their Transport moved over half its Movement characteristic.

If a Vehicle with a Firing Deck suffers a Penetrating Hit from a weapon with any variant of the Blast or Template (X) special rule, then in addition to any other damage the unit inside the transport suffers D6 Hits using the weapon's Strength and AP characteristics.

Note that a Firing Deck is not itself a weapon and may not be targeted by the Weapon Destroyed result on the Vehicle Damage Chart.

GITFINDA

It's a tekky bit dat finds gits. Oi, uh, dunno wot more ta sez.

A model with a Gitfinda gains the Night Vision special rule. In addition, when a model equipped with a Gitfinda makes a Shooting Attack, it gains +1 to its BS if any of the following conditions are fulfilled:

- The model remained stationary during its controlling player's previous Movement phase.
- The model is making an attack as part of a Reaction.

These are not cumulative; a model may only gain a maximum of +1 to its BS from Gitfindas.

GRETCHIN HELPAS

Looks, iw we'z goin' ta keep runtz 'round, moight as well troy ta get sum yooz outta dem.

The following represent a variety of enslaved gretchin servants, more or less obediently serving their orkish masters in various capacities. This can sometimes be represented by additional gretchin models placed next to the unit; when that is the case, the model is ignored for all rules purpose, and is only used to indicate the wargear item. Gretchin Helpas selected as upgrades to a Vehicle are not weapons and may not be targeted by the Weapon Destroyed result on the Vehicle Damage Table.

AMMO RUNTZ

One use only. When a unit that is equipped with any Ammo Runtz is selected to make a Shooting Attack, you can declare that this unit will expend one of its Ammo Runtz. If it does, then for that Shooting Attack all models in that unit roll an additional dice when firing any Auto weapon that does not have the Blast or Template special rules. After an Ammo Runtz has been expended, it cannot be used for the rest of the game.

DISTRACTION GROT

One use only. When a unit equipped with any Distraction grot is targeted with the Overwatch, Return Fire or Interceptor Reactions, it can expend one of its Distraction grots. If it does, all models shooting as part of that Reaction have a -1 penalty to their Ballistic Skill characteristic when making those attacks, to a minimum of 1.

In addition, when an enemy unit completes a Charge move against a unit equipped with any Distraction Grots, that unit can expend one of its Distraction Grots. If it does, that charge becomes Disordered. After a Distraction Grot has been expended, it cannot be used for the rest of the game.

GITBUSTA

A Gitbusta is equipped with a ranged weapon (if no ranged weapon is indicated next to the Gitbusta in the model's profile, that weapon is a Big Shoota). That weapon is always fired at Ballistic Skill 3, including when firing Snap Shots. When a model with a Gitbusta makes a Shooting attack, the Gitbusta may always be fired in addition to any of the model's other weapons, even if the model does not have the Firing Protocols special rule, and can shoot at a different target than the rest of the model's unit. Shooting attacks made by Gitbustas are resolved after the rest of the unit's Shooting attacks, and may not target a unit forced to disembark as a result of the unit's other Shooting attacks.

If a Vehicle is equipped with a Gitbusta, the Gitbusta's weapon can always be fired in addition to any weapons the Vehicle is would normally be eligible to fire, and is always considered to be a Defensive weapon, regardless of its Strength. The Gitbusta's weapon may be targeted with, and destroyed by, the Weapon Destroyed result on the Vehicle Damage Table.

GROT OILER

One use only. Once per battle, when a model equipped with a Grot Oiler fails a Battlesmith roll, you can expend one of that model's Grot Oilers. If you do, that roll is automatically successful instead. After a Grot Oiler has been expended, it cannot be used for the rest of the game.

GROT ORDERLY

One use only. Once per battle, before a unit that includes at least one model equipped with a Grot Orderly fails any Damage Mitigation roll granted by the Feel No Pain special rule, you can expend one that model's Grot Orderlies. If you do, then until the end of the phase the value X of that unit's Feel No Pain special rule is improved by 1 (to a maximum of 2+). After a Grot Orderly has been expended, it cannot be used for the rest of the game.

GROT RIGGERS

A model equipped with Grot riggers gain the It Will Not Die (6+) special rule. If a model that already has the It Will Not Die (X) special rule selects a Grot Rigger as an upgrade, that model improves the value of its It Will Not Die (X) special rule by 1 instead (from 5+ to 4+, for instance).

MEGA-ARMOUR

Da biggest, tuffest armour. No, ye can't get 'un, et costs, loike, uh... more den ten teef.

A model with Mega-Armour has a 2+ armour save.

MORE 'ULL

Oy, why's dere even a roof? E's jus' makin' it 'arder ta shoot'em!

A model that selects More 'Ull as an upgrade improves its Front and Rear Armour Values by 1 each.

ORK BIKES & KOPTAS

For dose boyz dat start takin' a freeky loikin' ta speed, jus' 'ichin roides on wagons ain't enuff. Dey gotta get dere own roide.

DEFFKILLA WARTRIKE

A Deffkillla wartrike has two Dakkaguns. In addition, a model with a Deffkillla wartrike that chooses to Run gains the Shrouded (4+) special rule until the start of the controlling player's next turn.

DEFFKOPTA

A Deffkopta has one Dakkagun.

A model with the Infantry Unit Type that selects a Deffkopta as an upgrade must change its Unit Type to Cavalry, keeping any Unit Sub-types it previously had, gains the Antigrav unit Sub-type, and may choose to gain the Skirmish unit Sub-type. In addition, the model must change its Movement Characteristic to 16, increases its Wounds characteristic by 1 and gains the Battle-hardened and Firing Protocols (2) special rule, and, if its armour save is worse than 4+, changes its armour save to 4+.

WARBIKE

A Warbike has one Dakkagun. In addition, a model with a Warbike that chooses to Run gains the Shrouded (4+) special rule until the start of the controlling player's next turn.

A model with the Infantry Unit Type that selects a Warbike as an upgrade must change its Unit Type to Cavalry, keeping any unit Sub-types it previously had, and may choose to gain the Skirmish Unit Sub-type. In addition, the model must change its Movement Characteristic to 14, increases its Wounds characteristic by 1 and gains the Battle-Hardened, Firing Protocols (2) and Hammer of Wrath (1) special rules, and, if its armour save is worse than 4+, changes its armour save to 4+.

SQUIG PETS & CAVALRY MOUNTS

Squiggles 'r yoozfool fer shoor, more den grots at any roite, an' dey moike gud pets, but it relly toikes a mad as kanz wildboy ta try an' roide on wun.

The following represent a variety of cantankerous squigs, brought along to battle by the orks as pets or, for the maddest ones, as cavalry mounts. This can sometimes be represented by additional squig models placed next to the unit; when that is the case, the model is ignored for all rules purpose, and is only used to indicate the wargear item.

ATTACK SQUIG

A model with an Attack Squig makes 1 additional attack per turn, in addition to any it is eligible to make. That attack is made at Strength 5, AP-, and has the Rending (6+) and Sniper special rules, but does not have and cannot gain additional special rules.

BOMB SQUIG

One use only. If a unit is equipped with Bomb squigs, any model in that unit may unleash a Bomb squig instead of firing a weapon when its unit makes a Shooting attack. If it does, pick a model in one of the units targeted by the attack which is within 18" and within range and line of sight, except a model with the Flyer, Lumbering Flyer or Antigrav sub-type. Roll a D6. On a 2+, that model suffers a Strength 8, AP3 Hit. After a Bomb Squig has been unleashed, it cannot be used for the rest of the game, even if it failed to inflict any Hits.

SQUIGHOG

A model with a Squighog makes 2 additional attacks per turn, in addition to any it is eligible to make. These attacks are made at Strength 5, AP-, and have the Rending (6+) special rule, but do not have and cannot gain additional special rules.

A model with the Infantry Unit Type that selects a Squighog as an upgrade must change its Unit Type to Cavalry and may choose to gain the Skirmish sub-type, keeping any unit Sub-types it previously had. In addition, the model must change its Movement Characteristic to 9, increases its Wounds characteristic by 1 and gains the Fleet (1) and Hammer of Wrath (1) special rules.

SMASHA SQUIG

A model with a Smasha Squig makes 2 additional attacks per turn, in addition to any it is eligible to make. These attacks are made at Strength 5, AP-, and have the Rending (6+) special rule, but do not have and cannot gain additional special rules.

A model with the Infantry Unit Type that selects a Smasha Squig as an upgrade must change its Unit Type to Cavalry and may choose to gain the Skirmish sub-type, keeping any unit Sub-types it previously had. In addition, the model must change its Movement Characteristic to 9, increases its Wounds characteristic by 1 and gains the Fleet (1) and Hammer of Wrath (3) special rules.

SQUIGOSAUR

A model with a Squigosaur makes 3 additional attacks per turn, in addition to any it is eligible to make. These attacks are made at Strength 6, AP-, and have the Rending (5+) special rule, but do not have and cannot gain additional special rules.

A model with the Infantry Unit Type that selects a Squigosaur as an upgrade must change its Unit Type to Cavalry and may choose to gain the Skirmish Sub-type, keeping any unit Sub-types it previously had. In addition, the model must change its Movement Characteristic to 9, increases its Wound characteristic by 2 and gains the Fleet (1) and Hammer of Wrath (1) special rules.

ORK ENGINES

Dere's a lotta way yer can moike a kart yoonique. Sum of dem dun't even 'asplode! Not roite away.

A model can only have one of the following pieces of wargear. These are not counted as weapons, and cannot be destroyed by the Weapon Destroyed result on the Vehicle Damage Table.

BILLOWING EXHAUST

A model with a Billowing exhaust that chooses to Run, or moves at Cruising Speed or faster, gains the Shrouded (4+) special rule until the start of the controlling player's next turn.

SHOKK ENGINE

A model with a Shokk engine gains the Deep Strike special rule. In addition, if a unit contains only models with Shokk Engines, its controlling player may choose to scatter it 2D6" at the end of their Movement phase. If the final position of any model in the unit is within 1" of an enemy model, any battlefield edge or a piece of Impassable Terrain, then move that model the shortest distance possible so it is more than 1" from enemy models, any battlefield edge or Impassable Terrain.

ROKKIT ENGINE

A model with a Rokkit engine changes its Movement characteristic to 20. However, a model with a Rokkit Engine treats all terrain, including open ground, as Dangerous Terrain. In addition, a model with a Rokkit Engine increases the Strength of any Hits it inflicts as part of a Hammer of Wrath or Ram attack by 1.

RUMBLIN' TRAKKS

A model with Rumblin' trakks gains the Slow and Purposeful special rule.

ORK FORCEFIELDS

Dey krakkly bitz dat stop dakka aroun' da mek. Dey sey dey can't moike it work away from dem, but oi fink dere lyin' 'cos dere lonely.

KUSTOM FORCEFIELD

While a model with a Kustom forcefield is on the battlefield, that model, and all friendly models within 12" of that model, gain a 5+ Invulnerable Save against Shooting attacks made by models that are more than 12" away from the model with the Kustom forcefield.

If a model with a Kustom forcefield is embarked inside a Vehicle, then instead that Vehicle receives a 5+ Invulnerable Save against Shooting attacks.

BLASTAJET FORCEFIELD

A model with a Blastajet forcefield, and all friendly models with the Flyer unit Sub-type within 12" of that model, gain a 5+ Invulnerable Save against Shooting attacks, except Shooting Attacks made by models with the Flyer or Antigrav unit Sub-type that are within 12" of the model with the Blastajet forcefield.

ROKKIT PACK

Yer never find wun o' dese attached ta me back. Goin' fast ain't worth goin' splat! E's fer crazy young'uns dat fink it moikes dem luk 'ard.

A unit composed entirely of models with Rokkit Packs may set its Movement Characteristic to a value of 14 (referred to as 'activating' the Rokkit pack) for the duration of the controlling player's turn. This allows the unit to move up to 14", regardless of the Movement Characteristic shown on its profile, and gain any other benefits of a Movement Characteristic of 14. In addition, if the controlling player activates the Rokkit pack, the unit ignores terrain while Moving and Charging, and may move over friendly and enemy models/units. A unit that ends or begins its Movement or a Charge in Dangerous Terrain will still need to take Dangerous Terrain tests as normal, even when employing Rokkit Packs. In fact, a model with an activated Rokkit Pack treats all terrain, including open ground, as Dangerous Terrain.

Any model equipped with a Rokkit Pack also gains the Bulky (2), Hammer of Wrath (1) and Deep Strike special rules, or, if it already has the Bulky (2), special rule it gains the Bulky (3) special rule instead. A model with a Rokkit Pack may Run if it would normally be able to Run (this does not allow units that include any models with the Heavy Sub-type to Run). When making a Run move for a model with an activated Rokkit pack, add the Initiative Characteristic of that model to 14 to determine how far it may move – the model ignores terrain and models from other units while making a Run move with a Rokkit pack as previously noted, but may not make Shooting Attacks or declare a Charge in the same turn in which it has Run as per the normal rules for Running.

During Reactions made in any Phase, a unit equipped with Rokkit packs may not activate them to gain any bonus to their Movement Characteristic.

SHINY GUBBINZ

Da boss an' da meks keep all da best shinty bitz fer demselfs. Unfair, oy sez! But not loudly.

A model equipped with Shiny Gubbinz has a 5+ Invulnerable Save.

SHOKK BOOSTA

Oh, naw. Tellyportas 're bad enuff, dere no way in zog oi'm goin' thru dat fing.

A model with a Shokk Boosta, and all models in any unit it joins (including during or prior to deployment) gains the Deep Strike special rule and must be assigned to a Deep Strike Assault. Additionally, any unit that includes a model with a Shokk Boosta that enters play using the Deep Strike special rule must roll a dice for each model in the unit after it has been completely deployed on the battlefield and any Pinning tests or Reactions required have been resolved. For each dice rolled that results in a '1', a single Wound against which only Invulnerable Saves may be taken is inflicted on the unit with the Shokk Boosta.

STIKKBOMS

Great ork invention! Throw at git, git 'asplodes. Also opens doors, cooks food fast, gets rid o' annoyin' grots...

A unit that includes at least one model with frag grenades makes attacks at its normal Initiative Step during an Assault after it has successfully Charged through Difficult Terrain or Dangerous Terrain, but still suffers any penalties to Charge rolls imposed by Difficult Terrain or Dangerous Terrain when resolving a Charge through Difficult Terrain or Dangerous Terrain.

STIKKBOM CHUKKA

Oh, so it throws dem? Wot for? I gots arms.

If a model with a Stikkbom chukka makes the Evade reaction, that model gains the Shrouded (4+) special rule instead of Shrouded (5+). Stikkbom chukkas do not count as a weapon and may not be targeted by Weapon Destroyed results on the Vehicle Damage table.

WAAAGH! BANNER

Can't let da boyz forger wot dere fightin' for. 'Coz we'e goin' ta waaagh! So raise da bannas an' go moike da godz proud!

A model with a Waaagh! banner gains the Fear (1) special rule, and counts as 2 additional models for the purpose of the Mob unit Sub-type. Whilst a unit includes at least one model with a Waaaagh! banner, all models in its unit gain the Line Unit sub-Type.

Additionally, an army that includes any models with a Waaagh! banner may declare a Waaagh!, even if you have no models with the Waaagh! special rule on the battlefield.

ORK PSYCHIC DISCIPLINES

PSYCHIC DISCIPLINE: WAAAGH!

Boss? Boss? Da weirdboy is glowin' again. Yes, e's worse den last toime. Dere chantin', too.

A Psyker with this Discipline gains all the listed Powers, weapons and other special rules, as well as the Ethereic Lightning Psychic Weapon (see core rules page 322).

DA JUMP (PSYCHIC POWER)

Instead of its unit Moving in the Movement phase, a Psyker with this psychic power may instead activate this Psychic power. The Psyker takes a Psychic check. Regardless of the result, remove the Psyker and all models in its unit from the battlefield. Then place the Psyker anywhere on the battlefield that is at least 1" from any enemy model, table edge or piece of Impassable Terrain.

If the Psychic Check was succesful, the model remains in place. If it was failed, the controlling player's opponent may move that model to any position within 18" that is more than 1" from any enemy model, battlefield edge or piece of Impassable Terrain. If there is no suitable position within 18" then the model may be repositioned anywhere on the battlefield that is more than 1" from any enemy model, battlefield edge or piece of Impassable Terrain. If possible, the Psyker must be placed in a position that will allow the remainder of the squad to deploy (as follows), and may only be placed in a position that denies the remainder of the squad a place within unit coherency if no other position is available.

Once the Psyker's final position has been decided, the remainder of the unit may be deployed anywhere that is within unit coherency and more than 1" from any enemy model or piece of Impassable Terrain. Any models that cannot be placed are removed as casualties. If the Psychic Check was failed, the Psyker suffers Perils of the Warp once the effects of the power have been fully resolved.

Once all models in the unit are deployed, any enemy units that are neither Pinned or Falling Back and are within line of sight and range may choose to make the Interceptor Reaction (see core rules page 309) targeting the unit deployed with Da Jump. Note that no Reaction other than Interceptor may be made against a unit deployed with Da Jump.

DA KRUNCH (PSYCHIC WEAPON)

WEAPON	RANGE	STR	AP	TYPE
Da Krunch	24"	-	4	Assault 1, Large Blast (5"), Barrage, Godly Pummel, Psychic Focus

Godly Pummel

Each time you place a Template for an attack made with this weapon, roll 2D6 to determine the Strength of all Hits inflicted by that template. If you roll any double when determining the weapon's Strength, completely resolve the attack and then resolve a second attack against the original target of the weapon (if it still has any surviving models), rolling another 2D6. If this second attack also rolls a double for its Strength, resolve another attack as described above. Continue repeating this process until either you do not roll a double when determining the attack's Strength, or all models in the original target have been removed as a casualty.

Psychic focus

Before making any To Hit rolls with this weapon, the Psyker must make a Psychic check. If the Check is passed, then the Psyker may attack as normal using the profile shown for this weapon. If the Check is failed, then the Psyker suffers Perils of the Warp.

PSYCHIC DISCIPLINE: BEASTHEAD

No, oi can't tell which weird chantin' es "old ways stuff" an' which es "new fangled singin'", but oi guess da wildboyz care 'bout da difference.

A Psyker with this Discipline gains all the listed Powers, weapons and other special rules, as well as the Ætheric Lightning Psychic Weapon (see core rules page 322).

BEASTSCENT (PSYCHIC POWER)

Instead of shooting with a ranged weapon in the Shooting phase, a Psyker with this psychic power may instead activate this Psychic power. Select an enemy unit. Until the end of the current player turn, that unit cannot gain the benefits of cover, cannot take the Evade reaction, and loses and cannot gain the Shrouded special rule. When activating this power, the controlling player may have the Psyker take a Psychic check. If the check is succesful, then until the end of the current player turn, each time a melee or ranged attack is made targeting that unit, the attacking model gains +1 to its Weapon Skill and Ballistic Skill for that attack. If the check is failed, then the power does not have any effect and the Psyker suffers Perils of the Warp.

POWER VOMIT (PSYCHIC WEAPON)

WEAPON	RANGE	STR	AP	TYPE
Power Vomit	Template	7	2	Assault 1, Pinning, Shell Shock (1), Psychic Focus

Psychic focus

Before making any To Hit rolls with this weapon, the Psyker must make a Psychic check. If the Check is passed, then the Psyker may attack as normal using the profile shown for this weapon. If the Check is failed, then the Psyker suffers Perils of the Warp, and if the model is not removed as a casualty then it may attack as normal but may not use this weapon.

DRAMATIS PERSONAE

BOOTS FIRST, BOYZ!

During a turn in which the controlling player declares a Waaagh!, Zagstruk, and all models equipped with Rokkit Packs in his unit, gain the Furious Charge (1) special rule.

WARLORD TRAIT: WHO’S DA BOSS!?

If Zagstruk is an army’s Warlord, he must have the following Warlord Trait:

Who’s Da Boss!?: if Zagstruk is held in reserves, do not make reserve rolls for his unit or any special deployment (such as a deep strike assault) he is a part of. Instead, the controlling player can, starting with the second turn of battle, declare a Waaagh! with Zagstruk while he is held in reserves; when doing so, Zagstruk’s unit (or any special deployment it is part of) automatically arrives from reserves during that turn. In addition, an army with Zagstruk as its Warlord gains an additional Reaction in the opposing player’s Assault phase as long as he has not been removed as a casualty.

GOLDTOOF ARMOUR

The Golftoof Armour confers a 3+ armour save and a 4+ invulnerable save.

WARLORD TRAIT: DA KOLOUR HOGGER

If Badrukk is an army's Warlord, he must have the following Warlord Trait:

Da Kolour Hogger: At the start of battle, the controlling player selects one additional Kolour for Badrukk, which applies to him and all models with the Flash of Kolours special rule in his unit. Similarly, whenever choosing new Kolours for the Flash of Kolours special rule, two Kolours may be chosen for Badrukk, with both new effects applying to him and all models with the Flash of Kolours special rule in his unit. If Badrukk is destroyed, his unit is immediately now only affected by the first chosen Kolour. In addition, an army with Badrukk as its Warlord gains an additional Reaction in the opposing player's Assault phase as long as he has not been removed as a casualty.

SNEAKIEST GIT

Snikrot has the Sneaky Gitz special rule. As long as he has joined a unit entirely composed of models with the Sneaky Gitz special rule, or has not joined a unit, his unit's Sneaky Gitz special rule applies even to models with the Primarch Unit Type and/or the Night Vision special rule.

EXPERT INFILTRATOR

A model with this special rule has the Infiltrate special rule. Additionally, when a unit entirely composed of models with the Infiltrate special rule, and that includes at least one model with this special rule, arrives from reserves, that unit may be deployed on the battlefield using the provisions for the Infiltrate special rule. The unit may not charge during a turn in which it enters the battlefield this way.

WARLORD TRAIT: THE THROAT SLITTER

If Snikrot is an army's Warlord, he must have the following Warlord Trait:

The Throat Slitter: Snikrot is counted as a Warboss with the Snikboss upgrade for the purpose of any Waaagh! Army which requires a Snikboss. Snikrot, and all models in his unit, gain the Move Through Cover special rule, and the value of Snikrot's Fear (X) special rule is increased to Fear (2) during any turn in which his unit successfully completes a charge. In addition, an army with Snikrot as its Warlord gains an additional Reaction in the opposing player's Assault phase as long as he has not been removed as a casualty.

ONE SCALPEL SHORT OF A MEDPACK

Grotsnik may not be an army’s Warlord. He may not join a unit that has already been joined by a model upgraded to be a Painboss, or has had a Painboy assigned to it using the Painboyz Workshop special rule.

Once Grotsnik has joined a unit, he may not willingly leave that unit unless there are no other models remaining. All Infantry models (excluding models with the Artillery sub-Type) in any unit Grotsnik joins gain the Fearless and Rampage (1) special rules so long as he is part of that unit.

GHAZGHKULL’S OWN PAINBOY

While Grotsnik has joined the same unit as Ghazghkull Mag Uruk Thrakka, the value of Ghazghkull’s It Will Not Die special rule is improved to It Will Not Die (2+).

Zhadsnark's Da Rippa is counted as a 'power' weapon for those rules that affect such weapons.

WEAPON	RANGE	STR	AP	TYPE
Da Rippa	Melee	×2	2	Melee, Specialist Weapon

DA BEAST

Da Beast is equipped with a Dakkagun and a Skorcha. If Zhadsnark chooses to Run, he gains the Shrouded (4+) special rule until the start of the controlling player's next turn and, if he is the only model in his unit, he may choose to add triple his Initiative value to his Movement characteristic when making that Run move.

Additionally, whenever Zhadsnark makes his Hammer of Wrath attacks, the controlling player may choose to reduce the value of his Hammer of Wrath (X) special rule to 1. If that player does so, that single Hit is inflicted at Strength 10, AP2.

WARLORD TRAIT: RIDIN' INTO DA EVIL SUNSET

If Zhadsnark is an army's Warlord, he must have the following Warlord Trait:

Ridin' Into da Evil Sunset: Zhadsnark is counted as a Speedboss for the purpose of any Waaagh! Army which require a Speedboss. If Zhadsnark is an army's Warlord, all units comprised entirely of models with the Cavalry Unit Type that have the Da Kolours (Red Wunz Go Faster) special rule gain the Scouts special rule. In addition, an army with Zhadsnark as its Warlord gains an additional Reaction in the opposing player's Movement phase as long as he has not been removed as a casualty.

WEAPON	RANGE	STR	AP	TYPE
Mek Arms	-	+1	2	Melee, Unwieldy, Shred, Armourbane (melee)

NITNUCKLE AND LUNK

Nitnuckle and Lunk can each be expended as an Ammo Runt, Distraction Grot, or Grot Oiler. Each can only be used once per battle.

DREADHEADZ

Buzzgob is counted as a Big Mek for the purpose of any Waaagh! Army which requires a Big Mek. Additionally, any unit entirely composed of models with the Dreadnought sub-Type in Buzzgob's army may be upgraded to have the Fear (1) special rule at a cost of +10 points per unit.

WARLORD TRAIT: THE BRAINS BEHIND THE BRAWN

If Buzzgob is an army's Warlord, he must have the following Warlord Trait:

The Brains Behind the Brawn: If any model other than Buzzgob in the controlling player's army has the Da Boss special rule, the controlling player may select one of them at the start of battle. That model gains a Warlord Trait as if it were the army's Warlord. If Buzzgob is destroyed, that model immediately loses that Warlord Trait. In addition, an army with Buzzgob as its Warlord gains an additional Reaction in the opposing player's Assault phase as long as he has not been removed as a casualty.

ZODGROD WORTSNAGGA..... 170 POINTS

	M	WS	BS	S	T	W	I	A	LD	SV

- Da Grabzappa
- Shiny Gubbinz
- Stikkbomms

SPECIAL RULES

- Da Kolours (White Means Deff)
- Beast Gob
- Independent Character
- Monster Hunter
- Stubborn
- Super Runts

SUPER RUNTS

Zodgrod may not be an army's Warlord. When building an army list, Zodgrod's controlling player can select one unit of Gretchin in their army to be Zodgrod's Super Runts. Zoddgrod must join that unit before the start of battle and may not willingly leave that unit unless all models in that unit are removed as casualties.

Apply the following changes to a Super Runts unit:

- The unit may not include Runtherds or be joined by Characters other than Zodgrod.
- The unit's Weapon Skill characteristic is changed to 3, its Ballistic Skill characteristic to 4, and its Leadership characteristic to 7.
- All Gretchin in the unit gain the Line Unit sub-Type.

BEAST GOB

If Zodgrod is included in an army, add 1 to To Hit rolls for attacks made using Attack Squigs, Squighogs, Smasha Squigs and Squigosaurus by models in the controlling player's army so long as Zodgrod has not been removed as a casualty.

GHAZGHKULL MAG URUK THRAKA.....430 POINTS

	M	WS	BS	S	T	W	I	A	LD	SV
Ghazghkull	7	7	2	7	6	6	4	5	9	2+

- Armour of Beasts
- Stikkbomms
- Bosspole
- Cybork Body

UNIT TYPE

- Prime-Ork (Heavy, Mob, Unique)

SPECIAL RULES

- Da Kolours (Black is Ded 'Ard)
- Da Boss
- 'Ere We Go!
- Goff is Da Best
- Preferred Enemy (Commissar Sebastian Yarrick)
- Vengeful Rampage
- Waaagh!
- Warlord Trait: The Great Green Prophet

ARMOUR OF BEASTS

The Armour of Beasts grants a 2+ armour save and a 4+ invulnerable save (which is further improved to a 3+ invulnerable save because of Ghazghkull's Cybork Body).

GORK'S KLAU

Gork's Klaw is counted as a 'power' weapon for those rules that refer to such weapons.

WEAPON	RANGE	STR	AP	TYPE
Gork's Klaw	-	×2	1	Melee, Brutal (3), Sunder, Unwieldy

MORK'S ROAR

The first time Mork's Roar is fired each battle, the Storm of Dakka profile must be used. For the remainder of the battle after that, only the Ammo Chugger profile may be used.

Mork's Roar is counted as an 'auto' weapon for those rules that refer to such weapons.

WEAPON	RANGE	STR	AP	TYPE
Mork's Roar
- Storm of Dakka	24"	5	6	Assault 20, Twin-linked, Pinning, Shell Shock (1)
- Ammo Chugger	24"	5	6	Assault 10, Twin-linked

GOFF IS DA BEST

All Shooting Attacks made against Ghazghkull's unit suffers a modifier of -1 to the Strength of the attack. If Ghazghkull's controlling player declares a Waaagh!, then the same effect also applies to all other units with the Da Kolours (Black is Ded 'Ard) special rule until the end of the following turn.

VENGEFUL RAMPAGE

If Makari, Bana Wava in the controlling player's army is destroyed, then until the end of the battle Ghazghkull's Attacks characteristic is increased by +2, his Weapon Skill characteristic is reduced by -2, and his unit must declare a charge against the closest enemy unit if his unit is unengaged and within 8" of enemy units at the start of the Assault phase (if two or more units are equally distant, the controlling player selects the target(s) of the charge).

Additionally, if Makari was destroyed by an attack made by an enemy model, then Ghazghkull gains Hatred towards that model's unit until the end of the battle.

WARLORD TRAIT: THE GREAT GREEN PROPHET

If Ghazghkull is an army's Warlord, he must have the following Warlord Trait:

The Great Green Prophet: When Ghazghkull's controlling player declares a Waaagh, Ghazghkull immediately regains one lost Wound and gains the Feel No Pain (4+) special rule until the end of the following turn. In addition, an army with Ghazghkull as its Warlord gains an additional Reaction in the opposing player's Assault phase as long as he has not been removed as a casualty.

DA BOSS' BEST GROT

Makari may only be included in an Detachment that includes Ghazghkull Mag Uruk Thrakka, and does not take up a slot on the Force Organization Chart. He must forms a unit with Ghazghkull at all times; Ghazghkull may still join and leave units, in which case Makari joins and leaves units with Ghazghkull as he does. If Ghazghkull is destroyed, then Makari may not leave any unit he had joined unless all other models in that unit are destroyed.

FAQ

WARLORD TRAITS

Q. Can a painboy or mek be assigned to the Best of the Beast skarboy squad, though astartes apothecaries cannot be assigned to command squads?

A. Yes. A Painboy and/or a Mek can be assigned to the Skarboyz squad, and receives the same modifier from the Best of the Beast Warlord Trait as the other models in the unit.

WAAAGH! ARMIES

Q. Do Morkanauts and Gorkanauts that are taken as a Dedicated Transport thanks to the 'Ardest Waaagh Waaagh! Army count against an army's Primarch and Lord of War allocation?

A. No.

FIRING DECK

Q. Do models firing from a Firing Decks have to Snap Shoot if the Transport is Shaken or Stunned?

A. Only if the model's unit failed the Leadership check to see if it is forced to Snap Shoot.

BASE SIZE GUIDE

All sizes are given in millimeters. Unless otherwise specified, unit characters use the same base size as the rest of their unit. Base sizes are given using the sizes listed on the Games Workshop website, when available. It's fine to use what you have or approximations, just clear it out with your opponent first.

CHANGELOG

V2.2

- Digganobz: Militia detachments with this provenance now count as having the Xenos faction.
- Boss Snikrot: Shrouded (3+) → (4+); Mork's Teeth: Breaching (4+) → (5+) and Murderous Strike (4+) → (5+); The Throat Slitter warlord trait: Fear (3) → Fear (2)
- Fixed Zodgrod's non-functional Beast Gob rule.
- Fixing the Firing Deck rules.
- Updated the Base Size Guide to include Dramatis Personae.
- The file has now been ported to the new font! Looks how small the file size is now.

V2.1

- Changed around the weapon options on Speedbosses to separate the driver's gun from the ones on the bike, and added a Snazzgun option for the bike guns. Since one Dakkagun now starts as a Shoota, base cost 115 → 110.
- 'Eavy Bommer, Storm Droppa, Grot Bommer: All +50 points, +1 HP, +1 to their front and side AV, added the Lumbering sub-type and gained the Ramshackle Colossus rule. The 'Eavy Bommer has gained the Apocalypse Now rule (same as Hell Talon in astartes chaotica).
- Kustom Battlefortress: gained the Ramshackle Colossus special rule.
- Waaagh! Mega Bommer: Point cost 700 → 1000, HP8 → HP20, Front and Side AV 12 → 13, gained the Ramshackle Colossus special rule, gained the Apocalypse Now special rule
- Cybork Body: Models with Cybork Bodies now can't move as part of Reactions (they already could not shoot).
- Supa-guns have been moved into the Fortifications slot.
- Added a first batch of named characters! They are found in the last section of the book.
